

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or oversight I got run down and my propensities are poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CARBON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved.

Hebron, Me.—"Before trying your medicine I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sarsaparilla Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to improve upon the minds of all the women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicine."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, R.F.D., No. 1, Hebron, Maine.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Water Is Good Medicine

Many people who have weak kidneys fail to appreciate how much water can do for them. But while it is good to drink water freely, it must be pure water. In many sections the line of alkaline water is a kidney tonic of itself.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a most reliable remedy for weak kidneys. When backache or urinary troubles appear, take Doan's and be sure to get the genuine. It is made of pure water. Prompt treatment will check the danger of kidney disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are successfully used all over the civilized world and publicly recommended by thousands.

An Indiana Case.

H. J. Taylor, 216 W. 12th St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: "For thirty years I have been afflicted with kidney disease and at times had to resort to the use of cathartics. I tried medicines of all kinds, but without the least relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. These cured me, and, best of all, the doctor said I could not be too grateful."

CAPITAL IS AGLOW WITH NEW LIGHTS

BRILLIANT SYSTEM OF ILLUMINATION ATTRACTS ADMIRATION OF CITIZENS.

IDEAL SYSTEM IS INSTALLED

Dignified, Effective and Commanding, Statehouse Blazes With 1,500 New Lights.

(By Denny Donovan.)

Columbus, O.—When the switch was thrown which set the statehouse dome aglow with 1,500 incandescent globes, an act of history was completed which was inaugurated in 1876.

Thousands of persons in the downtown streets saw for the first time the realization of an ideal system of lighting the dome. By one stroke its importance in the landscape was increased 100 per cent, for, from this time forth it will be as conspicuous and as imposing by night as it always has been by day.

The artistic system of illumination arranged by Harvey H. Hiestand, the New York architect, everywhere meets with approval. Dignified, effective and commanding, the scheme of panelling the window spaces by outlining them with white lights serves to develop the majestic proportions of the structure to the utmost.

Must Restore Service.

Laying down the general proposition that transportation companies must be operated as a whole rather than a number of units, the state public utilities commission issued a command to the Hocking Valley Railroad Co. to restore electric service on its lines between Jackson and Hamden. Believing itself to be within its rights that corporation abandoned electricity as a motive power and substituted steam. The decision as a whole is profoundly important to steam and electric railways and to urban street car companies, which are directly affected, and other public utilities, which will also be governed by the same principle. During the pendency of the proceedings an interested journal in Wall street declared the question involved to be most fatal in its consequences to this class of corporations. It is not improbable, therefore, that the order of the commission will be transferred to the Ohio supreme court for review and after that to the federal judicial domain for final decision.

Trees Are Advocated.

"There is no reason why Ohio should have trees planted along all of its public highways," said Prof. W. R. Lazenby, of the department of forestry at Ohio State university, in speaking about the proposed forestry law for Ohio. "Not only would trees planted along all country roads serve to beautify the state, but they would also prove a valuable source of income." In connection with the state highway commission, State Forester Lazenby is the state forestry commission. Prof. Lazenby is working upon plans to plant fruit, forest and shade trees along public highways in Ohio and to create several forest preserves from the school and ministerial lands in the state which are unused at present time. These lands aggregate 24,000 acres.

New Ohio Banks.

Confidence in the future and belief that the country is due for business expansion are the compelling motives responsible for the establishment of new banks in Ohio, according to State Banking Superintendent Emory Latimer. The superintendent has been surprised by the number of applications for state charters. The year will set a new record, he believes. The Commercial Savings Bank of Norwood, with a capital of $25,000, and the Steubenville Banking and Trust Co., with a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $25,000, were granted charters.

First Case to Be Considered.

It is expected that one of the first cases to be considered by the supreme court when it takes up its fall work will be the appeal from the office of the clerk of the supreme court, an appointive or an elective one. Believing that the law seeking to change the office from an elective to an appointive one is unconstitutional, most of the parties will present candidates for this place at the fall election.

Health Officer Wins.

In the contest between Columbus Health Officer Louis Kahn and President A. P. Sandler, of the Ohio agricultural commission, Kahn won a sweeping victory. The attorney general ruled the city health authorities have full power to inspect sanitary arrangements on the state fair grounds, and the grounds are under state property. After being notified of the ruling Sandler submitted. The trouble began last. It was said sanitary conditions did not obtain at the grounds.

Good Books in Library.

The library at the penitentiary is now one of the most complete of its kind in the United States. It now has a supply of about 8,000 books, of which three-fourths are fiction and the remainder histories, books of travel and adventure. Nearly all of the latest fiction and educational books to be found among the volumes shelved in the library, and according to the latest report of the department, there is a monthly circulation of about 4,500 books, not including the great number of magazines which are taken out.

His Limitations.

Eb Chalmers, a Newberry clerk of court, was once approached by a politician who had managed to get himself appointed to a public position. "Eb," he said, "I want you to qualify me for office." The plain-spoken old Covenanter replied, "I can swear you, but all hell couldn't qualify you."—London Mail.

Oh, Misunderstood.

"There is one thing I wish to say to you. The last girl had a habit of coming into the parlor and playing the piano occasionally. You never play the piano, do you?" New Domestic "Yes, mum, I play; but I'll be charged for half a dollar a week extra if I am to furnish music for the family."

Every time a new young man calls, the girl who wouldn't kiss a waffle griddle from a nutmeg grater gets terribly domestic in the trend of her conversation.—Florida Times-Union.

Engineers Are Appointed.

Twenty appraisal engineers and nine appraisal clerks were appointed by the state public utilities commission. They will all begin their work at once. The appointments were made from a list of names certified by the state civil service commission. Under a recent law, the utilities commission must make appraisals of utilities when requested by the state council of any municipality. Requests for the appraisals of the electric and street car companies of Cincinnati and three telephone companies in Cuyahoga county have already been received, and expert men will do the work were demanded. A requisition was made to the state civil service commission, and a special examination was called. Of those who passed this test, twenty-nine have been appointed to positions within thirty days after the date of examination, a new record for both departments.

Mid-Winter Fair.

Columbus is to be the scene of a big exposition of an unusual character next January. It is to be a combination horticultural, dairy, apple, corn and poultry show and will be styled "The Columbus Mid-Winter Fair." Through the courtesy of the state agricultural commission, the grounds and buildings of the state fair grounds will be placed at the disposal of the various organizations comprising the Mid-Winter Fair association. The date of the mid-winter fair has been set for the second week in January, following. Not less than 50,000 visitors are said to be assured for the fair, which is a novel departure from the plans for the relief of war sufferers. The conference also will take a stand upon the state and national prohibition movement. According to the Rev. Arthur Schade, pastor of the Cincinnati Synagogue, the prohibitionists will largely favor prohibition.

German Baptists for Prohibition.

Cincinnati.—W. J. Zirges of Cleveland was elected president of the central conference of German Baptists at the opening business session of their 43rd annual meeting here. A committee was appointed to prepare plans for the relief of war sufferers. The conference also will take a stand upon the state and national prohibition movement. According to the Rev. Arthur Schade, pastor of the Cincinnati Synagogue, the prohibitionists will largely favor prohibition.

SOCIALISTS FILE A STATE TICKET

BECAUSE PARTY DID NOT GO INTO PRIMARY IT RANKS AS INDEPENDENT.

Wellington Man Kills Big Cobra Snake In His Garden—Probably Escaped From a Circus.

Western Newspaper Union News Service. Cincinnati.—O. G. Van Schoyck, state secretary of the Socialist party of Ohio, has just filed with the board of elections the petitions of the Hamilton county Socialists to put the Socialist state ticket on the official ballot for the November election. As the Socialist party did not go into the primary its ticket ranks as independent and the men nominated are as follows:

For governor, Scott Wilkins, Lima; lieutenant governor, M. J. Hines, Cincinnati; secretary of state, Newton Wycoff, Martins Ferry; state treasurer, Siegfried Neubauer, Cleveland; attorney general, Louis A. Katz, Cleveland; chief justice supreme court, John C. Macdon, Cincinnati; judges supreme court, E. E. Rieger, Cridersville, and H. H. Smith, Lexington; for United States senator, E. L. Hitchens, Norwood.

Will Not Have Ticket.

Columbus.—For the first time in 10 years the Prohibitionist party will not have a state ticket in Ohio this year. The Prohibitionist state central committee adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, that the Prohibition party of Ohio endorse the Progressive party of Ohio and do not nominate a ticket for 1914."

In 1913 16,607 votes were cast for Daniel A. Poling, the Prohibitionist candidate for governor. This was not sufficient to allow Prohibitionists to nominate their ticket at the primary election this year, and to get a ticket for the November election ballot it would have been necessary to nominate candidates for state offices by petition.

Murder and Suicide.

Cleveland.—Charles C. Hills, aged 70, for 20 years secretary of the Cleveland Provision Co., was shot and killed on the street here. The slayer, identified as Eugene E. Boalt, a former Cleveland civil engineer, then turned the gun on himself and died instantly.

Miss Augusta Boalt, an aunt of E. E. Boalt, said that the murder grew out of a business quarrel of long standing between the two men. She said that her nephew and Hills had been interested in a mine in New Mexico 15 years ago. Boalt worked as engineer for the mine and Hills as superintendent. She said her nephew had told her of a controversy which arose between Hills and Boalt over the New Mexico mine. She believes he had brooded over this until he went insane.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. Socialists, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 13

THE TEN VIRGINS.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 25:1-13. GOLDEN TEXT—"Watch therefore for ye know neither the day nor the hour when the Son of Man cometh." Matt. 25:13.

A parable in "an earthly story with a heavenly meaning." An analogy is "a likeness." This story is a parable. It is to illustrate the vigilant, expectant attitude of faith. Heb. 6:28; II Tim. 4:8. Leaving the temple, Jesus directed the disciples' attention to His buildings and predicted His destruction. Proceeding to the Mount of Olives, His disciples ask him, "Tell us, when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign of thy coming, and the end of the world?" In reply Jesus gave the disciples His olive discourse and prophecies found in chapters 24 and 25. To fully comprehend this parable we ought to review all of this teaching. The discourse as a whole falls into these parts: (1) 24:1-44 deals with Israel as a nation; (2) 24:45-50 deals with the church as a body being responsible for the king during the period between his two advents; and (3) 25:1-46 deals with the judgment of the nations when the Son of Man comes in his glory. It will be seen that this lesson comes in the third part and is one of three parables concerning the responsibility of the church. Jesus is the bridegroom, John 3:28, 29; Eph. 5:25; II Cor. 11:2; Rev. 21:9, and sets forth the love of Christ for the church. Eph. 5:25, 28, 30-32.

Two Classes.

I. "While the bridegroom tarried" vv. 1-5. The first and strongest idea of this section is that he, Jesus, the bridegroom, is coming again. Among those who wait are two classes, the wise and the foolish, though both were right in their intention. The lamps symbolize Christian profession, Luke 12:35; II Tim. 3:5, and the oil that is essential to give us power whereby we maintain our profession. Both are to be maintained by the church. The wise and the foolish, though both were right in their intention, the abiding spirit of Christ's presence is essential to maintain his Christian profession. Waiters they all nodded (slumbered) and others evidently had fallen asleep. The wise virgins could afford to rest as they had all things ready. If they had been awake, however, they might have seen and rendered aid to those who were in the sorry plight of not being ready. The tarrying was a test of the faith and patience of both the wise and the foolish as both awaited the "fulness of time" when he should appear.

The Great Question.

II. Behold the bridegroom cometh" vv. 6-13. All are awakened by this midnight cry. The hour was one when he was least expected, and the church of today needs to be awakened by a midnight cry of this kind. The wise and the foolish have to meet him, but the wise were the only ones whose lamps could shine and show the way into the banqueting room. They all outwardly appear alike even to the point of separation. It is a matter of God individually and collectively, has yet to sense the danger to it and to others if its light for any reason be not continuous. This cry was a call to "meet him" and we all need to ask ourselves, "Are we ready to meet him?" The hour was one when he was least expected, and the church of today needs to be awakened by a midnight cry of this kind. The wise and the foolish have to meet him, but the wise were the only ones whose lamps could shine and show the way into the banqueting room. They all outwardly appear alike even to the point of separation. This cry was a call to "meet him" and we all need to ask ourselves, "Are we ready to meet him?"

Sound to Kick, Anyway.

Harris was lying on the couch very ill. The servant in the next room knocked down some dishes with a tremendous clatter. Harris' nerves were quite unstrung and he called out in a rage: "I suppose you have broken all the plates?" "No," replied the servant meekly, "there isn't one broken."

Well, then, growled the enraged invalid, "why did you make all that noise for nothing?"—Everybody's Magazine.

SISTER'S TRICK

But it All Came Out Right.

How a sister played a trick that brought rosy health to a coffee fiend is an interesting tale:

"I was a coffee fiend—a trembling, nervous, physical wreck, yet clinging to the poison that stole away my strength. I hooked at Postum and would have done it."

"One day my sister substituted a cup of piping hot Postum for my morning cup of coffee but did not tell me what it was. I noticed the richness of it and remarked that the 'coffee' tasted fine but my sister did not tell me I was drinking Postum for fear I might not take any more."

"She kept the secret and kept giving me Postum instead of coffee until I grew stronger, more tireless, got a better color in my sallow cheeks and a clearness to my eyes, then she told me of the health-giving, nerve-strengthening life-saver she had given me in place of my morning coffee."

"From that time I became a disciple of Postum and no words can do justice in telling the good this cereal drink did me. I will not try to tell it, for only after having used it can one be convinced of its merits."

Ten days' trial shows Postum's power to rebuild what coffee has destroyed. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—Is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins. The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.
